Summer Breeze—Purbeck Hills & Jurassic Coast (Corfe Castle, Lulworth Cove & Durdle Door) Parts of the coast today are world famous for fossils and well preserved dinosaur footprints and sabre tooth tigers. All this remarkable pre-history is contained within a stunningly beautiful coastline with 7 miles of sandy beaches just waiting to be hashed: New Forest National Park; For centuries deer & ponies have grazed freely in these ancient woodlands and the park is the perfect place for trails with its 'shiggy', rivers, bridleways and open heathlands.
